What guy Has made from guy CONTENTS advent ix AUTHORS PREFACE xvii LECTURE i. THE perception OF technology within the glossy international three LECTURE 2. the location OF PSYCHOLOGY IN PHILOSOPHY AND one of the ordinary SCIENCES 31 LECTURE 3. THE background OF PSYCHOLOGY sixty one LECTURE 4. PSYCHOANALYSIS AS PSYCHOLOGY ninety four SUPPLEMENTARY NOTES 124 EPILOGUE 235 record OF primary NOTES 245 vu creation by means of DR. FRANZ ALEXANDER it's What Man Has Made of Man strange to write down an advent to a booklet What Man Has Made of Man of an writer whose conclusions, method of his difficulties and entire outlook are diametrically contrary to these of the writer of the introduction. Why did I then settle for Mr. Adlers recommendation to jot down an intro duction to his publication and why did Mr. Adler inquire from me to do so, are either questions which require an explanation. The situations less than which those 4 lectures originated will elucidate this para dox. Engaged in psychoanalytic instructing and scientific reports for an extended interval of time, I progressively got here to the conviction that during this box as in others the place scholars are utilizing a hugely standardized technical technique and are normally absorbed in minute observa tion of facts, in short in all preeminently empirical fields, the stu dents are apt to lose point of view in the direction of their very own work. This conviction is going again to these early days that I spent as a study employee in body structure in an experimental laboratory. There, I turned first conversant in the attribute mentality of mod ern medical research. There I What Man Has Made of Man discovered the mores and virtues of recent study and primary well-known the chance which con fronts the medical employee of the current day. This probability isn't really limited to medical laboratories, it's a normal challenge of the presentage. Man, the inventor of the machine, has develop into the slave of the machine, and the scientist, in constructing hugely sophisticated equipment of investigation, has develop into no longer the grasp however the slave of his laboratory equipment. An severe quantity of specializa tion of curiosity and mechanization of task has taken position and a scotoma for necessities has constructed a naive trust within the magic What Man Has Made of Man omnipotence of What Man Has Made of Man particular technical tactics results in a routine, frequently sterile submersion in information with no curiosity in or below status of bigger connections. IX creation it really is no exaggeration to claim that during many medical facilities no longer the curiosity in sure primary difficulties however the fortuitous ownership of a few new equipment directs the study paintings a brand new What Man Has Made of Man laboratory process is brought which spreads like a f advert to all laboratories then far and wide difficulties are chosen that are approached via this new strategy or apparatus. medical inter est within the basics is lost, examine is dictated roughly at random by way of the technical amenities on the staff disposal. this angle unavoidably needs to result in that cartoon of clinical ethics which regards suspiciously every thing that includes cause ing and never only remark and is contemptuous approximately theories, to not say hypotheses that aren't as but proven. there's a naive adoration of natural evidence that are gathered with none top ideas. Psychoanalysis is a hugely empirical box within which the coed is uncovered to an severe number of observations and in a undeniable feel specific facts, as each sufferer provides a different combina tion of universal elements. at the present time the psychoanalytic clinician is present process a fit response against the current abundance of conception and generalizations. he's within the means of accepting What Man Has Made of Man the mentality of the ordinary scientist and is assuming the entire virtues and weaknesses of our What Man Has Made of Man period of laboratory research. Like his different clinical colleagues additionally he makes use of a hugely standardized and sophisticated technique yet can pay an excessive cost for his technical ability he's gradually best friend wasting point of view and proper judgment in regards to the validity and obstacles of his procedure and of What Man Has Made of Man his clinical paintings in general...
